INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY — COPYRIGHT REQUEST FORM

St John Ambulance Australia has served the Australian community for over 135 years. Over that time, St John has developed first aid knowledge and skills that has made it the leader in providing first aid training, products, and services. St John's Clinical Governance Committee continues to study the science of first aid, and works with international organisations of resuscitation and other external clinical expertise. Their work ensures that St John's first aid business is always contemporary and relevant.

- St John Ambulance Australia Ltd (the Australian Office) produces first aid resources developed for commercial/marketing use, and St John paid and volunteer members. All material in these resources is the intellectual property of the Australian Office.
- All persons or entities proposing to use St John materials for purposes other than permitted under the Australian Copyright Act 1968 must receive written permission first, from the copyright holder.
- Copyright fees may apply depending on how, where and why the material is being used.
- Duration of use: 12 months only. Permission must be sought for continued use of the information beyond the 12-month period. This ensures that first aid protocols are up-to-date and consistent with healthcare practices.
- Disclaimer: All St John Ambulance Australia Ltd first aid information is written for the Australian environment and is for the Australian market only. All care has been taken in preparing the information, but St John takes no responsibility for its use by other parties or individuals. St John encourages first aid training as this information is not a substitute for first aid training.
